

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6, 1891.

Among the congressmen now here is General Catherall of Mississippi. The General says that under the new constitution of his State there is now a safe white and democratic majority in all the districts thereof, and that consequently all fear of negro supremacy there has been allayed. He says there was a square fight between the democrats and the Alliance men, and that the former were the victors and will elect the U. S. Senators, and that as the sessions of the legislature are now quadrennial the coming session of that body will choose both of them, and that the present Senators, Messrs. George and Walball, will be re-elected. The General says that from what he sees and hears he is induced to think that Mr. Crisp will be the Speaker of the next House. He thinks it hardly possible that ex-President Cleveland can be renominated. There is nothing in the official dispatches received at the State and Navy Departments from Ohio to indicate any pronounced change in the situation there so far as the relations between Minister Egan and the Junta are concerned. The story cabled from Paris that Balmaceda is in hiding in the U. S. Legation at Santiago is absolutely discredited at the Department of State. Two cablegrams were received at the Department from Minister Egan announcing the suicide of the ex-President, and, in addition, the Ministers from European countries sent the same information in the most positive form to their governments. Respecting the treatment of refugees alleged to be in asylum in the American legation, it is believed that no serious opposition will be made by the Junta to their safe conduct out of Chile, as this practice, although not founded upon absolute right, has heretofore been observed in similar cases without effectual opposition.

General Lee's illness is the cause of much solicitude here, not only among the many Virginians in the city, but among people from all parts of the country, and every body who is supposed to know any thing about the General's condition is questioned on the subject, and all express sincere regret that his physicians have so little hope of his recovery.

From Virginia it is learned to-day that in the first congressional district of that State few or no republican candidates for the legislature will be run next month. This is not so much in consequence of General Mahone's order to that effect, as of the inability of the republicans of the counties in that district to get hold of any campaign funds, and they know well enough that without such funds a battle would be lost before it was begun. It is understood here, from administrative sources, that President Harrison is utterly disgusted with both factions of his party in Virginia, wishes a plague would overtake both of them, and that he has positively determined to disburse no more federal patronage in that State until the factions referred to shall bury the hatchet and again be a band of brothers.

The two hundred and eighth anniversary of the arrival of the first German settlers in this country was observed here this afternoon by a grand parade of all the German Americans in this city. In the procession were old band fire companies, many civic societies and some of the District military companies, among them the Light Infantry and the cavalry company.

The prevailing impression here now on the subject referred to is that, in denial to the contrary, Attorney General Miller will go on the bench, and that the places he and Secretary Proctor fill in the cabinet will be given to Messrs. Cheney and Este as means by which breaks can be made in the balance line in both New England and California.

Ex-Gov. Fitz Lee of Virginia is here this evening. He has been to see his first cousin General W. H. F. Lee, whose condition he reports was better at two o'clock this afternoon.

A member of the Grant fund committee, the committee appointed to collect funds for the Grant monument in New York, here to-day, says that committee has by formal action practically abolished the office of secretary thereof, by stopping its salary. The secretary is a negro named Greener, but the republican majority of the committee thought the $2,500 a year he was receiving was just that much too many.

The Department of State has been informed by the legation of the United States at Lima, that the report of the assassination of four American miners near Cajamarca, Peru, was incorrect. It appears that an attack was made on them by the Indians but that only one of the miners was wounded. The others escaped with the loss of all their property. The wounded man was subsequently carried into Cajamarca. The legation has been advised by the Peruvian government that it is making a thorough investigation of the crime.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The democrats of Spotsylvania county have renominated Capt. M. B. Rowe for the legislature and endorsed Senator Daniel.

The tobacco sales in Lynchburg for the year amounted to 31,162,800 pounds, being an increase over last year of 7,707,300 pounds.

Some time early Sunday morning thieves broke into the postoffice at Berkeley and secured everything of value that could be obtained. It is estimated that $800 in stamps and change was secured, besides three registered letters.

President Imms is authority for the statement that the Richmond Terminal Company received 973 for its 2,000 shares of Baltimore and Ohio stock recently sold in Baltimore. The company paid par for the stock. As it has paid no dividend the Richmond Terminal is a loser by its operation.

Some time ago Messrs. Farish and Harris were recommended by the Albemarle county alliance for nomination for the legislature. Tilman (farmer) entered the race and beat Harris in the democratic convention yesterday. Harris has bolted, and will probably run as an independent candidate.

Ex-Gov. Fitzhugh Lee is expected to take the stump soon in behalf of the democracy. He has promised Chairman Eliason to make five or six speeches during this campaign. It is not known definitely what day Gen. Lee will make his first speech of the campaign, but it will probably be some time next week.

John Hostetter, a well-to-do farmer residing near Lexington, accidentally killed his two-year-old baby Sunday night. The child was asleep on the floor, covered with its father's overcoat. Mr. Hostetter was lying on a bed near by when the announcement came that the child was dead. He was going to fall, he endeavored to avoid the child, but failed, his knees striking the babe in the abdomen. The child died almost instantly. The father is frantic with grief.

Salvation Oil quickly finds its way to the seat of the disease, allays the inflammation, and by removing the cause, effects a permanent cure. 25 cts.

Mr. Raskin thinks there is a great future for American literature, but he hardly realizes the enormous demand over here for Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

The Supreme Court of the United States will meet next Monday for the October term.

Nearly two hundred acres of ground in the northwest corner of Carbonate, Pa., through which the Coal Brook Colliery is tunneled, are in a state of turbulence, and there is danger of one of the most extensive cave ins in the history of the coal regions.

A Royal Blue Line train on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which was delayed by the elevator fire at Locust Point Sunday, made a remarkable run from Canton, after it got through, to Philadelphia. The distance was ninety-two miles and this was made in exactly 92 minutes.

Col. A. B. Andrews, second vice president of the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, said yesterday with reference to the presentation of his name to the President for the position of railroad commissioner, that he was not only not an applicant, but would not accept the position were it offered to him.

Standing by the side of the grave of his little son in Prospect Cemetery, Washington, just as the sun was setting yesterday evening, Gus Thielkuhn shot himself through the left lung in an effort to commit suicide. He is probably the man who is wanted by the World's Fair people for falsely representing himself as their photographer.

Two freight cars were run off the transfer steamer Charles Marlan at Memphis yesterday and four men in them were drowned. The cars were loaded with wheat and flour. Two tramps were in each car. The train was backed with more than ordinary force into the boat, causing the hind cars to break over the bumpers and pitch into the water.

In view of the fact that there has been three commissioners of pensions within less than that number of years and that there will be a fourth within a short time, the talk of transferring the Pension Bureau to the War Department is again renewed, and several Congressmen have declared that they will push it to an issue at the approaching session.

The Rev. W. J. Gamble, of Biggsville, Ind., disappeared on September 29, and his wife fears that he has committed suicide. In a communication to the police authorities he says he has frequently said he would drown himself in Lake Michigan. It has been learned that a boat, whirled by a man at the Hyde Park boat-house on the 2d instant, and that neither boat nor man has been seen since.

The immense packing establishment of John P. Squire & Co., in East Cambridge, near Somerville, Mass., was partially destroyed by fire last night. The fire caught in the hog building, in which were 1,500 live hogs. The animals were roasted to death and the building laid flat. Mr. Squire estimates his loss at $150,000, and has upon his entire establishment an insurance of $700,000 in $500 and $1,000 policies in every company in New England.

The will of Mrs. Sarah Polk, widow of ex-President James K. Polk, was presented for probate in Nashville, Tenn., Saturday last. She leaves to the State of Tennessee the political library of her husband, and the portraits of Jefferson and Madison are given to the Tennessee Historical Society. The rest of the estate, with the exception of two bequests of $1,000 each, she leaves to the sole and separate use of her niece, Mrs. George W. Fall, whom she raised from infancy.

The C. &amp; O. R. R.

The sentence in the annual report of the Chesapeake and Ohio relating to the payment of dividends on the preferred stock exerted considerable influence on the New York stock exchange yesterday as it was argued that people as conservative as Drexel, Morgan & Co., would not have said anything about dividends or the reduction in operating expenses, if the time when this would be effective had not been near. Even with the present rate of operating expenses the company has in the last two months been earning at the rate of over 5 per cent. on the first preferred, and, with a moderate reduction in the ratio of expenses, would be very near earning at the rate of 4 per cent. on the common.

The report says the directors had decided to build into Washington and surveys were made. But the Virginia Midland made a fair contract allowing the Chesapeake and Ohio to run its own trains into Washington, and the arrangement began April 1, 1891. It promises to pay well. The Warm Spring Valley Branch has been finished since June 30, 1891, and paid for by the issue of $400,000, 5 per cent. bonds on it. No construction work is at present in progress, but several short branches will be begun ere long. The company still has $1,000,000 5 per cent. bonds on hand which it may sell for terminals, double tracks, etc. The company needs better terminals at Richmond, Lynchburg, and one or two other points. The land for them is already owned. Arrangements will be made later on for doing this work. The fixed charges for the fiscal year 1891 will be $1,904,029, exclusive of taxes, as these will be hereafter included in the operating expenses.

TESTING AN AMERICAN GUN.—A cablegram received from London last night says that experiments were made in Aberdeen, a town of Scotland, with an invention known as Snyder's dynamite projectile. The inventor of these dynamite shells is Mr. F. H. Snyder, of New York, who, some years ago, conducted a series of trials at Sandy Hook and on the Potomac, near Washington. The experiments yesterday proved to the satisfaction of the many English and foreign military and naval experts present, including Captain Emory and Major James C. Post, the military attaché of the American legation in London, that dynamite bombs may safely be fired from ordinary guns by the Snyder system.

Reduced Rates to Richmond. On account of the Colored Industrial Fair to be held in Richmond, Va., the Pennsylvania R. R. will sell tickets to that point Oct. 7 to 10, inclusive, good to return until Oct. 11, inclusive, at the rate of $3.85 including admission.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

The rescuers at the Richardson colliery at Glenorton, Pa., have to-day given up all hope of reaching the entombed miners alive.

The New York Presbytery has fixed upon Wednesday Nov. 4, at 10 o'clock in the Scotch church, as the time for the trial of Dr. Briggs.

Mr. John Dillon says that Mr. Parrell refused to appoint a committee to act with a committee of Mr. McCarthy's friends to distribute the Paris funds for the relief of the evicted tenants.

John B. Barrell, who was shot last Saturday night by John L. Omond, died to-day in Bellevue Hospital, New York. Omond at the same time shot and killed his young wife, who was seeking a divorce. Barrell boarded with the Omonds, and the murderer was jealous of him.

The baron of the Manhattan millinery company at Manhattan, Mont., was burned yesterday. The fire was caused by the bursting of a lantern. There were ninety-one horses in the stable at the time and but forty-six were rescued. Three thousand bushels of oats and other feed were destroyed.

Nels Lundstrom, a lumberman of Republic, Mich., was found shot through the back and dead upon the railroad track yesterday. Robbery was evidently not the motive of the crime, as a considerable sum of money was untouched on the body.

A fire at Braddock, Pa., this morning caused by a lamp explosion, destroyed a row of six frame houses. James McGuire, who was asleep at the time, was overlooked in the excitement and was burned to death.

A freight train was robbed on the St. Paul road between Red Wing and Lake City, Wis., Saturday night, and three cases of seal skins and imported shawls, valued at thousands of dollars were taken.

Richard Von Olinde, a Sacramento, Cal., blacksmith, murdered his wife yesterday and then killed himself. His wife had left him on account of cruel treatment.

In the vicinity of Kookuk, Iowa, much of the wheat will be a failure. It is said that a slight shower of rain sprouted the grain.

Considerable snow and sleet fell at Miller, S. D. yesterday with some rain. The weather there is very cold.

EXCITING SCENES IN A CHURCH.—The

Rev. Charles Wirt Tristram, who is the pastor of Massaponax church, delivered a very bareh and bitter sermon on last Sunday, the subject of which was Drinking and Drunkenness.

After the sermon was over he came forward and offered his resignation as pastor. This struck his congregation like a thunderbolt from a clear sky.

On all sides was heard, "What is the matter?"

The pastor approached to the front of the pulpit and said: "My usefulness as a pastor to this congregation is gone," and pronounced the following questions:

1st. "How many of my congregation have danced?" Eight responded.

2nd. "How many of you have danced with promise not to dance any more?" Twenty-eight responded.

3rd. "How many of the members of the church would discipline members for dancing?" Eight responded.

Mr. T. H. Harris hoped the pastor would reconsider his determination to resign, and moved that it be not accepted.

Mr. McCalla Bonware moved that the resignation be accepted, which was lost. A large majority of the ladies voted against accepting the resignation, while a majority of the men voted for it.

There was much excitement, and a very strong feeling against the pastor for the way in which the whole matter was conducted.

A resolution was subsequently offered deferring action until the first Saturday in November.—Fredericksburg Lanes.

OIL CLOTHS.—There is no material that forms a covering for our floors that is so badly made as oil cloths. The colors are destroyed by scrubbing with hard brushes and strong soap, and then comes the wall from the women that they last no time at all, and are not worth buying.

If treated properly, there can be a great amount of wear got out of them. An oil cloth should never be scrubbed with a brush, but after being swept should be rubbed with a damp, clean cloth. Several times a week, according to its usage, it should be cleaned by washing with a soft cloth and tepid water in which has been dissolved a little mild soap. When it is dry rub it well with a little beeswax that has been softened with a little turpentine, using for this purpose a soft brush. Then polish with a great white rag with folded corners all over. With this kind of care they will always look fresh and bright, and will last as long as glass as when the common usage is given them.—A Housekeeper.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Manuel Garcia, the Cuban bandit, recently murdered a man and his wife, whom he declared had attempted to betray him.

Mr. Egan, the American minister to Chili, setting under instructions from Washington, has notified the junta that a continuance of its present course will result in the interruption of friendly relations with the United States.

By order of the Czar, no court balls will be given in Russia during the season of winter festivities. On the other hand, the money usually devoted to such entertainments will be devoted to the relief of the famine sufferers.

At the ministry of finance in Rome yesterday it was reported that a confidential circular has been sent to nuncios abroad, explaining that owing to the disturbance at the tomb of Victor Emmanuel at the Faneion last week the Pope will be unable to receive more pilgrims.

A letter was received at Simla on September 15 from Captain Youngusband, the British agent, who, it was reported, had been killed by the Basins in the Pamir district, in which the writer says that he has started on his return to India. This disposes of the report that Captain Youngusband had been murdered.

A Paris newspaper's Chilean correspondent is authority for the statement that ex-President Balmaceda is believed to be alive and one of the reasons for the American legation at Chili. The Chilean minister to Berlin expresses his belief in the rumors that Balmaceda is alive, and the story has caused some talk in Paris.

PENSIONS.—In his report submitted to the Secretary of the Interior, Commissioner Samuels states that on June 30, 1891, there were 676,160 persons on the pension list, or 138,216 more than at the close of the preceding fiscal year. These pensions averaged $132. The disbursement was $118,648, 959. As many as 250,565 pensions were granted in 1891, as against 151,658 in 1890 and 123,173 in 1888. During the present fiscal year 350,000 claims will be adjudicated, and the $133,473,085 appropriated will, it is thought, suffice. The commissioner states that there are still 23 widows and daughters of revolutionary soldiers on the pension list, and 7,874 pensioners on account of the war of 1812. He adds that in the civil war still living, of whom but 520,158 are on the rolls. The dead number 879,908. If 23 pensions remain from the revolutionary war, which ended practically in 1791, it appears that we shall be still paying pensions to a vastly larger number on account of the civil war in the year 2001, yet some one has said that republics are grateful.

Foreign News.

STUTTGART, Oct. 6.—The King of Wurtemberg died at 7 o'clock this morning. He had been ill for some time past and yesterday his condition became so critical that the last rites of the church were administered to him. Karl I, King of Wurtemberg, was born March 6, 1823, and succeeded the throne at the death of his father on June 25, 1864. He married the Grand Duchess Olga, daughter of the late Emperor Nicholas I, of Russia.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 6.—A band of brigands yesterday made a desperate attempt to wreck and rob a passenger train. They tore up the rails and so damaged the road bed that the train was not stopped in time an accident would surely have happened. The brigands, as soon as they saw that their plan had miscarried, instead of attacking the train, decamped.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 6.—A terrible gale prevailed in the Irish Sea last night and it is believed that much damage was caused to shipping. A dispatch from Holyhead states that three vessels were wrecked near that point. Despite the furious wind and the heavy sea the life boat crews worked heroically and their efforts to save the lives of the shipwrecked crews were crowned with success.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Right Hon. William Henry Smith, first lord of the treasury, warden of the Cinque Ports and the government leader in the House of Commons, who has been ill for some time past suffered a relapse to-day and died this afternoon.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The labor troubles at Wapping continued to-day with little or no prospect for an early settlement of the matter in dispute. The lightermen have now joined in the block and are greatly twisting in stopping the riverside work. This morning only a few truckmen were at work and their vehicles had to be protected by police patrol. The wharf owners are supported by the powerful organization known as the shipping federation, and they contend that they will win in the long run. The wharf owners say that they can secure an ample supply of free labor and a large gang of non-union men entered the wharves to-day.

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—Cable advices from Russia received as the Jewish colony in the north end say that entire states are being deserted on account of the famine. They also assert that a new law has been made forbidding the sowing of seed this fall, so that the acreage next year will not be sufficient for the home supply, still less for export. So great is the distress that people have been driven to pillaging each other, first setting fire to villages and then robbing the inhabitants. By the united charities of the government and people a biscuit a day has been allowed every individual in the famine district. The distress is a greater menace to the government than all the efforts of the nihilists. The famine very easily a revolution where law of liberty has failed. A dispatch from the Jews and Nihilist societies of America. The latter have sent $5,000.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Right Honorable and Most Rev. Edward White Benson, D.D., to-day opened the church congress at Blyth.

Remarkable Tragedy.

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—A merchant named Richard Engel of Hegelsbergstrasse, this city, courted and won the daughter of Privy Councillor Loesche, but when he asked the Councillor for his daughter's hand he was met with a contemptuous refusal. Herr Loesche swore that no daughter of his should ever marry a common merchant. Engel retired heartbroken from the interview and wandered desolately through the streets. As he was passing Mobilienstrasse he was attracted by a crowd on the quay, and drawing near he saw dragged from the river the corpse of a young girl. Something about the dress or figure seemed familiar. He darted forward, and the terrible suspicion that had suddenly formed in his mind was confirmed—the body was that of his sweetheart. On learning of her father's decision she had rushed from the house and thrown herself into the Spree. Engel was crazed by grief. He followed the corpse to the house of the Privy Councillor, and entering with the braver, he drew a pistol and shot himself dead, his body falling beside that of his sweethearts in the presence of the horror-stricken father of the girl.

Before the assembling of the convention the delegates attended high mass at the cathedral where they were addressed by the Most Reverend Archbishop Ryan. At the conclusion of the celebration of mass the delegates proceeded in a body to Association Hall, where an address of welcome was made by Mayor Stuart. Rev. Father Lavalley, rector of St. Patrick's cathedral, New York, president of the union, responded. Addresses were made by Bishop O'Farrell and James A. Faherty, of this city. The convention will remain in session for two days.

The cause of the deed is not known.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 6.—Miss Annie Mahan, of Waterbury, went to ride yesterday afternoon with two Misses Margaret and Georgiana Kenny. After the party had started back and when about half way down the mountain the horse spied a snake lying in the roadway. The horse immediately bolted and all efforts of the driver to check its speed proved unavailing. Miss Mahan became badly stricken and jumped from the carriage. Her head struck a stone and her skull was fractured, killing her instantly. The frightened horse ran a short distance farther and fell, the carriage overturning at the same time and more or less hurt the other occupants.

Devoured by Hogs.

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 6.—A son of E. H. Kirk, aged six years, was yesterday almost literally devoured by hogs. While feeding the stock the youngster tried to catch a pig. The mother of the pig leaped at him and fastened her tusks in the back of the neck, dragging him to the ground. Several hogs out of the drove then rushed at the child and began to devour him. The father tore all the hogs from his child, arms and legs, maiming him in a horrible manner. He died after his rescue.
